

Healthcare Regulatory & Security Consulting

UNDERSTANDING YOUR CHALLENGES

The regulatory landscape in healthcare continues to evolve and become more complex, while the punitive damages for HIPAA noncompliance continues to grow. With resources already stretched to the limit, it's imperative to have an understanding of where you need to be spending your time and what controls need to be implemented to protect your patient's and customer's information. You need a clearer picture of where your resources need to be.

SERVICES

Our IT Healthcare practice provides you practical ways to assess risk within your technology environment and helps make sure you are meeting regulatory standards and industry best practices.

We help our clients with:

- HIPAA/HITECH risk assessments
- External/Internal Network vulnerability assessments
- HIPAA/NIST security standards
- Wireless/Mobile device vulnerability assessments
- HIPAA Omnibus Rule guidance
- Application Testing
- FISMA audits
- Social Engineering assessments
- Meaningful Use risk assessments

SERVICE STRATEGY

At Wolf & Company, our reviews make sure you have a comprehensive analysis of your administrative, physical and technical safeguards. We help you get a clearer picture of where your resources need to be used. In addition, we reach out to our Clients throughout the year to help them deal with the latest healthcare regulatory and technology challenges. Through our year round service strategy and customized recommendations, we help you better manage and protect electronic and paper patient information to avoid regulatory violations and help mitigate the changing security threat landscape.
